CANADIAN LEGION CELEBRATE VIMY DAY

Grand Banquet, and Interesting Address by Lieut. Hugh C. Farthing on the Capture of Vimy Ridge

On hundred and twenty members and friends of the Canadian Legion, attended the Fourth Annual Vimy Dinner, held in the Church Hall last Friday night, and a most enjoyable evening was spent.

Mr. Seymour Edmunds, President, was in the chair. After a most sumptuous dinner had been disposed of, several hours were spent in listening to various speakers, who told of the Great War and other matters of general interest.

Lieut. Hugh C. Farthing, M.L.A., of Calgary, a veteran of the war, and a man who went through the Vimy scrap, gave a most inspiring address. He told of the great fight put up by the Canadians in the capture of the Ridge. He told how the French had lost 70,000 men in an attempt to take this strategic point. English battalions had also been sent in, but had failed to dislodge the enemy, and retired with a loss of twenty thousand men. He told of the great preparations made for the advance of the Canadian troops; the unprecedented barrages put on during the advance, and how with a supreme effort, with a loss of about four thousand men, the Canadians won the victory after two hours of fighting. The Ridge was of vital importance to the allies, and its taking had a great effect on the final, victorious conclusion of the war.

On a grey, cloudy morning, 18 years ago last Sunday morning, masked batteries of artillery, together with those engaged in the daily counter battery work, turned loose a blast of concentrated fire on German strong points. It was the opening of the famous battle of Vimy Ridge. Machine gun nests, snipers, and literally stifled enemy resistance before they realized an attack was under way. The battle-scarred ridge was virtually turned over in the avalanche of shells dropped on it by a perfect crashing barrage.

General Sir Julian Byng, afterwards Lord Byng of Vimy, was in command of the Canadian forces in this engagement. He later was succeeded by General Sir Arthur Currie.

First and third divisions reached their objectives after sturdy isolated and stubborn fighting, right on schedule, but the fourth ran into an extremely well fortified machine gun nest which held them for some hours, and this left the left flank of the third division open to considerable sniping. Finally, the strongest point on the ridge, "The Pimple," succumbed to persistent attacks and the ridge was won.

"The battle followed careful and methodical training behind lines by each division, and in the battle there was admirable cohesion between the air, artillery and infantry forces. Through the mud, soldiers dragged their equipment. The concentration of heavy guns was no thick behind the Canadian lines that they stood in line almost wheel to wheel. Official accounts of the battle say that 'the work of getting the guns through the mud baffles description.'"

"There were 848 pieces of equipment used in the artillery forces in the fight, with 46,700 men in the personnel."

He highly complimented the ladies of the United Church on the splendid banquet they had prepared for the occasion, but he had been prepared for it. On the train he happened to mention to a friend that he was on his way to a banquet in Lacombe, and his friend remarked that he could assure him that he would enjoy the best banquet he had ever attended.

"He didn't tell the half of it," said Mr. Farthing. The speaker also thought that the people of Lacombe must think quite a lot of him, as he had received two promotions since coming here. While he was a Lieutenant in the army, he noticed on the programme that he had been raised to Captain, while the President of the Legion had gone one better, and dubbed him Major. He was glad of the opportunity to visit Lacombe, and hoped that he could renew acquaintances on some future occasion, a hope that was voiced by all present.

In replying to the toast "The Town of Lacombe" Mayor Edwin H. Jones, B.C., gave a pleasing talk on the affairs of the town. He said that it was a great chance for him to tell of the town to a large audience. He could never get the people out of town meetings, and would take full advantage of this opportunity. He told of the enviable position our town held among the towns of the province. He commended the citizens on the fact Lacombe had not borrowed up to the hilt, in fact we have the lowest bonded indebtedness of any town in the province. Lacombe enjoyed a very low tax rate in comparison to other towns, and had more public utilities than most of them. He congratulated the members of the council on the careful attention given to the town's affairs.

The toast "The King" was responded to by the audience rising and singing the national anthem.

Rev. T. H. Chapman proposed "Our Departed Comrades," when two minutes silence was observed.

In proposing "The Visitors" Mr. T. Wilkes paid sincere tribute to the comrades who now sleep in Flanders Fields. He thanked the people of Lacombe for their interest in the Legion, which was appreciated by all members.

Mr. F. H. Reed proposed "The Canadian Legion and Kindred Associations." The Last We Forget Club, the I.O.D.E., the Red Cross, St. John's Ambulance, and other war and peace time organizations.

Mr. John Macdonald fittingly replied and paid tribute to these organizations.

Mr. W. F. Puffer replied to "Our Visitors," proposed by Mr. Thos. Wilkes, and while he could not see how he was classed as a "visitor," said he was glad to be present and meet so many old friends on such an auspicious occasion.

Other interesting items on the programme were:

Solo, "The Trumpeter," by Mr. Thos. Wilkes.

Solo, by Mr. R. Rhind.

Solo, by Mrs. Thos. Wilkes.

Solo, Miss Helen Warwick.

Mr. Chas. Boudreau, bagpiper, sounded "Last Post" and "Reveille."

The evening closed with the singing of "God Save the King," many expressions of praise were heard for the very complete arrangements which were carried out without a hitch.

The Legion can expect an increased number at their future anniversaries.

See Improved Cattle Prices Very Soon

Ottawa.—(Post office) has been arranged on the assumption that Canada would ship 45,000 head of live cattle to the United Kingdom this year. Hon. Robert Weir, minister of agriculture, told the Senate committee investigating the cattle situation today.

Of this total about 10,000 head would go through St. John before Montreal port opened.

Cattle prices in the United Kingdom may be expected to improve, but not much before the end of May, Mr. Weir said.

One of the important factors in the cattle market was the Irish supply. In 1930 Ireland shipped to U.K. more than 900,000 head. In 1931 it had dropped to 800,000 and last year to slightly over 700,000.

The advice he had received from people of long experience in the cattle trade was that this supply would continue to fall in spite of any solution of the difficulties between Ireland and Great Britain.

Canada occupied a preferred position to fill in as the Irish supplies diminished, the minister thought.

"The price of live cattle, I believe, is bound to rise with any improvement in world conditions," the minister declared. Care must be taken, however, to hold the U.K. market. If the supply and quality of cattle for the British people might not keep up the demand from the average time and the demand for fresh milk would drop off.

The task of the department and the agricultural interests was to meet the requirements of the British market. It might be necessary to regulate it by artificial means. This was being studied.

The minister expected the boats to be added to the cattle trade.

The shipping of female cattle to Britain which was not possible under the last conference agreements had not been successful so far, Mr. Weir stated. Every shipper had lost money.

However, a group of Ayrshire growers were preparing a shipment of bull heifers two and three years old. It was hoped these would be found suitable for the dairy herds of the United Kingdom.

Another market is that of China, continued the minister. The Chinese were particularly interested with the health of the Canadian livestock and the accuracy of their production records.

China was also interested now in importing Canadian swine, which were of a higher standard than the domestic animals.

Prospects for establishing a child trade between Canada and the United Kingdom were not bright, the minister said. The Argentine had raised that department of industry to such a science it would be difficult for Canada to enter into competition.

Mr. Weir believed the Hudson Bay route was ideal for the shipment of cattle during the open season at Churchill for the reason that the route was cooler than through the other ports.

He thought when the railway situation was straightened out the railways would re-adjust their rates to cattle.

George G. Rothwell of the livestock branch informed the committee Canada's exports of cattle amounted to only one half of one per cent. of the cattle population of the country. This contrasted with 6.72 per cent. for the Argentine and 15.74 per cent. for Ireland.

Mr. Rothwell read a communication from a cattle expert in the United Kingdom. This emphasized that due to the uncertainty of the situation in Ireland and also in view of the settlement of the exchange condition, Canada had a better opportunity for a good cattle market in Great Britain than ever before.

He gave the complete rail, water and sales costs of cattle from various points in Canada to the British market as follows:

From Calgary, $37.07; from Saskatoon, $37.10; from Moose, $38.00; from Winnipeg $33, and from Toronto, $27.54.

LOWER COST OF SCHOOLS HELD TO BE NECESSARY

Dr. A. M. Scott, Supt. of Calgary High Schools Gives His Views on The Subject

Continued success of schools throughout the province and largely in all parts of the Dominion, in the immediate future appears to depend on the ability of administrators to lower the cost basis of operating, or at any rate, to reduce the burden of taxation for school support.

This view is expressed by Dr. A. M. Scott, superintendent of high schools in the annual report of the Calgary School Board, issued Wednesday afternoon.

The report reviews in detail the activities of all departments in 1932. High school enrolment in October was 3979, an increase of 223 over the preceding year. Public school enrolment at the end of the year was 11,894, a decrease of 973.

Dr. Scott, in his observations, expressed himself as follows:

"The means by which this may be accomplished are comparatively few by reduction of salaries and maintenance, by lessening the services offered by the school, by decreasing the number of students, or by securing some new and hitherto unused source of income. In England, approximately 60 per cent of school maintenance is borne by the state; this method of support is finding favor in a number of the American states; Delaware, for instance, provides as much as 87 per cent of the school support from the treasury of the state, whose taxing power is much wider than that of the local school district or municipality."

"There is a further suggestion made by some that the numbers for whom high school education is to be furnished be restricted. It has been the proud boast of parents, ratepayers and school authorities on this continent that every boy and girl in every community has the right to an opportunity for securing free high school training on qualifying for admission. No restrictions have been imposed on the numbers to be admitted. School boards have vied with each other in the erection of new buildings to furnish adequate accommodation for all high school students applying for admission. Perhaps the time has come for considering how far the cities and towns of western Canada are able to go in maintaining the high ideal of free education at the rising generation."

"Can Alberta afford to provide secondary education to 80 per cent or more of all her young people who pass through the elementary schools, when England does not plan to do this for 100 per cent of the population? On the other hand, can Alberta and Calgary afford to close any part of her present high school system, and turn hundreds of adolescents on the street to wander about without work, get into bad habits, and later drift into crime? The cost of crime must be considered. It has been estimated that it costs $300 annually for every person in prison, $400 per year is given as a per capita cost in a school for juvenile delinquents. Compared with the average cost of $100 per year for pupils enrolled in elementary and high schools, these costs are high. It remains to be discussed and determined whether any city or town in Alberta can afford to turn boys and girls out of school to save money."

"Whatever adjustment may be found necessary in providing young people with the opportunity of obtaining free high school training, any reduction to be made must be gradual, so as to avoid dismissing large numbers, five or six hundred at a time, from the high schools without any prospect of regular occupation."

PRICES OF BEER ARE NOW BETTER

Victoria, April 9.—British Columbia's beer thirsty can now obtain their favorite beverage at a slightly reduced price as the result of the government's new policy to facilitate beer sales. The reduction in cost, 50 cents per dozen bottles, from $2 to $1.50, became effective Friday night when the beer legislation was given assent just prior to prorogation of the Legislature. In addition to the lower price of beer, liquor permits have been reduced from $2 to 25c per annum.

Man of West Dies

Victoria, April 9.—John Galt, former president of the Union Bank of Canada and for almost half a century leader in the business and financial life of Western Canada, died here today.

Date of Big Fight Friday, April 28

With all arrangements for the monster tournament completed, the definite date of the event has been set for Friday, April 28th. All principals of this great boxing tournament are reported to be training hard, and all will be in perfect condition when the big day arrives. Every afternoon and evening, large numbers of interested fight fans are visiting Pete Holm's training camp in the Fonaugh block to watch Pete go through his rigorous training exercises. Everyone expects themselves as unskilled as Pete's perfect condition so long before the fight.

He is certainly hating up nice, and his general manager Harry Murray, reports that right now Pete could go the full 8 rounds without any trouble whatsoever. He expects by the end of the training period to have Pete in the best condition it is possible for a fighter to be in. You should take an hour or so off and go over to the gym and watch these work out. Mr. Murray and Pete extend you a most cordial invitation.

O'Brien is working great now and will be a hard man to stop. He is confident he can take Booklike like the grasshopper took Texas, but on advice from Booklike's manager, "Lefty" will be in condition to look after himself very well. This will be an exceptionally hot match, and should prove great entertainment for fight fans.

The McBain-Weiss battle for the featherweight championship of Alberta promises to be the fastest bout on the card. Featherweights always prove faster than the heavier fighters. Wells is well known here and is a real combatant. McBain comes here with the best possible recommendations.

Kid Alcide will meet Baden Whitehead in a four round bout. Alcide has expressed a wish to meet the winner of the Booklike-O'Brien battle. Fans will be sure of lots of action in this fray.

The McPherson-Shanks tilt has the earmarks of a real tussle as both these men are in top form and are real fighters.

The four round encounter between Welch of Erskine and Wilkinson, of Alx will be a battle-royal and should be a great bout.

Kid Choccolate and Young Firpo, in the Bantamweight bout should give a good account of themselves.

In fact the whole fight will be a top-notch affair and well worth coming miles to see. Jim Toller, the promoter, states that fight fans will see a bill of fighting better than anything previously held in Alberta. A glance over the contestants bears out Jim's statement. All fighters on the card are noted battlers and most of them well known here. Tickets for the fight will be on sale soon, so get yours. You will get your money's worth and then some.

Train Pooling Plan

Pooling of competitive passenger services wherever practicable has been agreed in principle between the Canadian Pacific and Canadian National Railways, the first lines to be affected being the Montreal-Toronto and Ottawa-Toronto services, it was announced in a joint statement issued by E. W. Besty, K.C., president of the Canadian Pacific and S. J. Hungerford, acting president of the Canadian National.

Tickets issued by either railway will be honored on the pool trains, the statement says. "The Canadian Pacific and Canadian National Railways have agreed in principle to pooling of competitive passenger service wherever practicable. Detailed arrangements for making the pool effective, east and west, will take some time to complete, but in order to effect immediate economy the two companies have arranged for a partial pooling of passenger service between Montreal-Toronto, and the pooling of all passenger service Ottawa-Toronto. An economy of well over half a million dollars per year will result from these initial developments in the pooling arrangements."

In Sixty-Eight Years

Sprout of Walnut Tree Attained Diameter of 32 Inches
Sixty-eight years ago, a tiny black walnut sprouting broke through the ground near Woodstock, Ont., and in time developed into a sturdy representative of its kind. Quite recently crowds of people attending the Produced-in-Canada Exhibition in Montreal, viewed with interest a flawless cross-section from the trunk of this tree, having a diameter of 32 inches and with growth rings indicating its age. The block, formed part of the woodwork display of the Rutherford Lumber Co., Limited, Montreal.

The Silent Sex

"Oh, no," replied the proud father. "Not yet."
"Huh!" commented the bachelor uncle. "Don't talk yet. Boy eh?"

A Real Grievance

Two little boys had misbehaved in school, and as a punishment the teacher told them they would have to stay late, and that each must write his name 100 times. On hearing this one of them burst into tears.

Gardens At Fort Resolution

Many Crops Successfully Cultivated Far North Of Edmonton
Good gardens were again grown in 1932 at Resolution, on Great Slave Lake, 626 miles north of Edmonton, according to Dr. C. A. Bourget, M.D., the Indian agent at that point.

In most of his own garden he could water with the help of an engine, and consequently had 135 bags of potatoes, against 180 the year previous. Unwatered gardens seem to have suffered, as they did at Hay River and Providence, farther west. Simpson, still farther west, had a bumper crop. Good onions and celery were among the doctor's 1932 achievements. He planted no tomatoes, but the corporal of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police and another gardener had satisfactory results with them, and the Ontario mission had green ones by the tubful, ripening some indoors. At various points Dr. Bourget finds a few of his Indians planting potatoes and vegetables, and surprising results are obtained.

The Naming Of America

New Claimed Cabot Named Continent After English Friend

Considerable weight is now given to the claim that America was named after Richard Amerigo, a friend of Bristol, England, and not after the Italian, Amerigo Vesputi, who, it is said, was an obscure person, purveyor of beef or ships' chandler. It is claimed that John Cabot, who discovered North America in 1497, gave the name to the continent he had discovered of his friend Richard Amerigo, and this claim is supported by no less an authority than Edward Scott, a keeper of manuscripts at the British Museum, according to the Tourist and Convention Bureau of the Canadian National Railways.

An ancient manuscript found in Westminster Abbey gave rise to the claim as it proved that John Cabot returned to Bristol and settled there after his second voyage and continued to receive the pension granted by the King of England. This pension was derived from the customs levied collected at the port of Bristol and the collector was Richard Amerigo, who was a leading citizen of Bristol at the time and sheriff (1503). The Germans and Dutch write the name "America" and this is given as an added proof that Cabot named it after his friend Richard Amerigo. It is thought that some foreign writer, never having heard of Richard Amerigo, got the name confused with Amerigo.

Added weight is given to this argument by the fact that Amerigo was the Christian name and not the surname of the Italian, Vesputi. John Cabot touched at the island of Cape Breton, at the eastern tip of Nova Scotia, on June 24, 1497, and probably proceeded into the Gulf of St. Lawrence for a short distance on this his first voyage.

Cork Came In Handy

Repaired Hole In Vacuum Pipe On British Express
After a breakdown lasting 65 minutes the Lancastrian, the fastest train from London to Manchester, was repaired last night with a beer-bottle cork.

The mile-a-minute flyer had completed more than two-thirds of the journey in scheduled time when, outside Rugby, a fault occurred in the vacuum-brake system. Puzzled passengers, including a bishop's wife, watched the engine driver and fireman search the whole length of the train for the fault.

Local trains were held up while the search dragged on. At last the hole in the vacuum pipe was found and plugged with a cork.

With a snort like the opening of a thousand bottles, the train, restarted, and the journey was completed without further delay. In fact, the train with a bang in its lungs actually gained three minutes during the last sixty miles!

Beaten But Not Defeated

When Earthquakes Wreck Cities Man Starts To Build

Nothing is more startling and terrifying than an earthquake, yet such calamities are common enough. Going no further back than the beginning of the present century, there have been throughout the world twenty such catastrophes, with loss of life estimated at more than 475,000. The amazing thing is that when, in these afflicted areas, man sees the wreckage of his work, his most beautiful buildings lying in ruins, his friends, his relatives and his home gone, his first impulse is to rebuild. Temporarily beaten by Nature in her wrath, he is not defeated. And this is what will be seen in the ruins strewn about Southern California.—Toronto Globe.

An Important Discovery

Canned Blood Has Been Used Successfully In Transfusions

The successful use in Russia of canned human blood for transfusion purposes was related by Dr. Allen Hirsch, of New York, on his arrival on the liner "Europa," after spending a year in Russia.

"You cannot use the blood of a person who has died of disease," Dr. Hirsch said. "But when a person has been killed, the blood can be used again with beneficial results."

Dr. Hirsch said blood was drained from a man killed in Moscow, and it was sealed in a can. Twenty days later, he said, it was used successfully for a transfusion.

Butter Consumption Record

The record for the consumption of butter in Canada still stands to the credit of 1921 with 315,000,000 pounds. The figures just to hand for the past year promise to outdo this record by exceeding the average for the first eight months. However, for the last four months the average dropped behind that of the corresponding months by about 1,115,000 pounds.

Alberta Government
Warns Frank Residents

Recurrence Of 1903 Rock Slide May Occur Any Time

Although they have been warned that Turtle Mountain is again in an ugly mood, villagers of Frank, Alberta, west of Lethbridge in the Crow's Nest Pass, are not moving. They are clinging to their cottages and belongings as they cannot believe the mountain that slid in 1903 will repeat the horror. Yet slowly the crevices grow wider and the danger to life and property increases.

Rock slides may occur at any time. Specially are they likely in the spring and the Alberta government has sounded a warning.

The main trans-Canada highway passes through the ruins of the slide of 1903, when upwards of 90 persons were buried alive. Millions of tons of rock and earth swept in an avalanche over the valley. To safeguard travellers it is being urgently asked that the road be changed to a route beyond the danger line. Appeals are going forward to the government.

Old timers are now recalling the Frank slide horror of April 29, 1903. Early in the morning and without the slightest warning, Turtle Mountain, rising 3,000 feet above the mining village, was torn asunder and a hundred millions of tons of debris fell with a thundering roar over the settlement and across the valley. A thousand acres were covered with limestone rock to a varying depth of a foot to a 150 feet. Many miners' cottages were buried, others were destroyed. Much of the colliery works was swept away and a river dammed while a mile and a quarter strip of the C.P.R. railway tracks was buried.

The tragedy would have been intensified had the slide occurred a few minutes earlier for the C.P.R. passenger train had just passed through the village when the slide occurred. Whole families were wiped out, others lost some of their members. For years this enormous tomb remained little disturbed. Rocks have been moved and in these excavations the remains of some of the victims have been discovered.

Making Name As Architect

Work Of British Premier's Son Shows Great Originality

Alister MacDonald, son of the Prime Minister, is rapidly making a name for himself as an architect, and at least one distinctive picture house in the North bears witness to his originality. His latest work is a small London theatre which he has designed, a novel idea being that each row contains only six seats, which obviates that annoying crushing to allow late arrivals to reach their seats.

THAT when a Pacific Coast Indian dies the grave is enclosed within a fence or a structure is built over it? Within the enclosure are placed the tools and weapons of the brave; the household utensils of the quiver or the toys of the child according to the age and sex of the occupant of the grave so that the spirit may not enter the "Happy Hunting Ground" unprepared. The photograph shows an Indian grave near Hazelton in northern British Columbia.

Banking System

Investigation Of Currency and Credit Facilities May Be Carried Out

A complete investigation of Canada's banking currency and credit facilities may be carried out by a commission similar to that headed by Lord Macmillan, which investigated these subjects for the British Government in 1931, and a report made to the House of Commons before the next session.

Speaking at the annual meeting of the Toronto Board of Trade in January, Prime Minister R. B. Bennett made references that might be construed to indicate such an intention. When talking about the system of gold coverage for Canadian currency as provided for in the present system, Mr. Bennett also referred to the suggestion that, had been advanced for a central bank and the question of whether or not the present system adequately takes the place of a central bank.

"It would seem to me," Mr. Bennett said, "that before any conclusion is reached regarding that matter, we must have the closest possible investigation of conditions in our own country that we may, in the light of our own experience and our own conditions, be able to determine what is best for us rather than what has been best for the rest of the world."

Recently several members of the House who have been taking a particular interest in this question, wrote the prime minister approving of the proposal to make such an inquiry. Mr. Bennett's reply was that the government was actively engaged in consideration of banking regulations.

Authority On Weaving

James Morton Is Remarkable Man In British Industry

James Morton, whose wonderful bookbinding cloths have recently taken publishers and authors by storm, is one of the most remarkable men in British industry. He is an eminent authority on dyeing and weaving, and 25 years ago began the manufacture of fadeless fabrics, called "Sundour," for curtains and other household purposes. Two years ago, at the suggestion of Bernard Shaw, he turned his attention to bookbinding materials, with amazing success. Born in 1869, he is a Fellow of the Royal Society and an L.L.D. In addition, he is covered with distinctions as a reward for chemical investigations. His new bookbinding cloths are fadeless, washable, and of beautiful colors.

Planting Trees

Early Spring Is Best Time For This Work

Deciduous, that is broad-leaved, trees should not be planted when in leaf. The planting should be done either in the spring before the leaf buds begin to open or in the autumn after the leaves begin to fall or have been completely shed, says the tree planting division, Dominion Department of Agriculture. The best time is early in the spring as soon as the ground has thawed out. Trees are then quick with new life and if moved can readily provide new feeding rootlets and adapt themselves to changed conditions. The actual planting will vary with the locality and season, but in general it should be done in April or early May.

Building Huge Cathedral

Liverpool To Have One Of Largest Churches In Christendom

Sir Edward Lutyens, whose plans for a Roman Catholic cathedral in Liverpool have been passed by the corporation of the city, says the building will take "anything from 40 to 400 years" to complete. It will be one of the largest churches in Christendom, rising to a height of 520 feet, and having 83 altars. A space 48 feet by 180 feet near the entrance porch will be open day and night as a haven for the poor.

Collecting Gold

Report Says Britain May Return To Gold Standard

The financial editor of the Sunday Express states that the Bank of England is planning to assess 250,000,000 pounds sterling in gold, and then return to the gold standard. He said the gold stock now on hand totalled 168,000,000 pounds sterling as compared with 120,000,000 pounds in January 1.

Guards Always In Danger

In consequence of the strangling of a guard at Whitley, Ontario, by an insane patient, a coroner's jury has recommended that the strength of the guards should be doubled. "The danger to attendants of presumably harmless lunatics is not appreciated by the public and perhaps not even by the guards themselves. Any demoralized man might be regarded as a potential slayer."

Deficit In Postal Receipts

Two Cent Rate Brings In More Revenue Than Three

Both in principle and from the teachings of past experience, public men know well that after a certain point has been reached, the revenue derived from any given tax tends to fall off as the rate is pushed upward. Yet strangely enough, when revenues become inadequate to meet the needs of the time, they are apt to forget this fact in the temptation of squeezing a greater return out of a particular assessment.

One of the first Departments of Government to find out that, conversely, to reduce the rate might be to increase revenue, was the Post Office. In the days of the stage coach postal charges were so high that letter-writing was almost a luxury for the well-to-do. A single sheet of paper would be crossed with writing in order to keep down the weight upon which postage must be paid.

But because postage was expensive, the revenue to the Government from that source was relatively small. Then Roland Hill, in England, conceived the daring idea of penny postage, put it into practice, made letter-writing popular, and the revenue went up by leaps and bounds.

For many years, a penny or two cents was the standard postal rate in most countries but of late years the need for revenue has led a number of Governments to raise it to three cents; the Canadian Government among the number.

In the United States a year's trial has proved conclusively that the three-cent stamp is a dismal failure as a revenue raiser; in fact, it is figured that continuance of this rate during 1933 will cost the American Post Office Department $100,000,000. So first class mail in the United States will be going under a two-cent stamp by July 1, and it is also planned to return to the old one-cent rate for local or drop letters, within a year or two.

Our Canadian experience has been much the same. In 1928-29, expenditures on ordinary account for the Post Office amounted to $33,483,000 and revenue to $40,611,864, yielding a surplus of $7,128,864. Since then the Department has been losing money steadily and our last completed figures show a deficit of over $8,000,000, with receipts still dropping.

It will pay Ottawa to revert to the penny post—Quebec Chronicle-Telegraph.

Hope For The Future

New Rifle Operates Without Noise, Fumes, Or Ammunition

A scientific exhibit to be seen at the British Industries Fair suggests a hope for the future. According to the description, it "enables the owner to have rifle practice without noise, fumes or ammunition. By a system of lenses and mechanism within a gun a luminous target is first projected on a blank wall or a specially prepared target board. When aim is taken and the trigger pressed a black spot appears upon the target at the point at which the gun was fired. It is there no means of reducing warfare to a similar set of hypotheses and conditions?—London Observer.

Using Old Auto Tires

Guatemalans Are Making Sandals and Various Other Articles

Guatemalans are now fashioning useful domestic articles from second-hand tires, tin cans, metal drums and containers of all kinds, according to a report to the commerce department.

An enterprising Guatemalan has established a sizeable business fashioning "cates," native sandals, from used automobile tires. Old inner tubes are made to serve as waterproof covers for horses and mules and for colars and ox yokes.

When To Water A Horse

The practice of inexperienced horsemen in watering their horses after feed is a dangerous one because the digestive fluids are interfered with and sickness is often the result. "Water before feeding (in a quantity depending on the warmth of the horse) and again before going to work, when only a moderate amount will suffice," is the dictum of the Horse Division, Dominion Department of Agriculture.

Proved Worth Anyway

You are "feeling punk" simply because your liver isn't secreting its daily two ounces of bile into your bowels. Digestion and elimination are both hampered, and your entire system is being poisoned.

What you need is a liver stimulant. Something that goes further than salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum or rootage which only move the bowels—ignoring the real cause of trouble, your liver.

Take Carter's Little Liver Pills. Purely vegetable. No harmful calomel (mercury) in the whole lot. Ask for drug by name. Refuse substitutes. See at all drug stores.

The Bluebird

He's hovering under the eaves,
The magic bird that brings
To mortals, health and happiness:
Life's most precious things.
(Just now, on the turf, I found
A quill dropped from his wings).

A feather shaded evenly,
From dark to paler blue—
I know the message that he sends,
Glad days are here for you:
(I'll put it in a book to keep
As women always do).

If I went down the gipsy trail,
I'd hear this prophecy;
This bluebird's token is his sign
Of precious things for me.
(And I with faith in gipsy lore
Would smile contentedly.)

Remedies For

Wheat Price

All over the world the nations are intensely concerned over the low prices for wheat and various remedies have been proposed. Wheat production, it is recognized, is the mainstay of agriculture. With prices at uneconomical levels wheat growers have lost their buying power. They simply cannot purchase manufactured goods nor pay their debts. Thus the depression circle is completed. The only way out lies in price betterment.

The United States is pinning its faith on acreage production. The Domestic Allotment Plan was built on that basis. Congress, however, is emphasizing the play and when made law it may be unrecognizable from its original form. The United States is also taking the leadership in endeavoring to bring about a planned acreage reduction on the part of the four leading wheat exporting countries. A meeting of representatives of these countries, U.S.A., Canada, Australia, and Argentina, may be held shortly or may be put off until the World Economic Conference is held in the late spring or summer.

Leading British economists are urging monetary reform and lowered tariff walls as the true method to follow to increase prices of wheat, and re-establish world trade. Sir Joseph Stamp, J. M. Keynes, Sir Basil Blackett and others are firm in their belief that a world-wide inflation of money would raise world prices. This view is shared by Dr. Robertson, of the International Institute of Agriculture at Rome. He believes plans to reduce wheat acreage are bound to prove abortive, but that the solving of the war debts problem, the breaking down of tariff barriers and the reformation of the monetary system would inevitably raise prices.

The hope of the world is now fixed on the World Economic Conference. Even the fact that past world conference have accomplished little has not dulled the anticipation of the people. Possibly they conclude that things have reached such a desperate pass that this conference will be forced to do something tangible in order to effect relief. If nothing is accomplished the reaction throughout the world will be so severe that possibly the leaders dare not let it come to pass.

July 4th and 5th

A Stock Show and Sale of Red Label Beef will be held in conjunction with Lacombe Fair, dates for which were set for Tuesday and Wednesday, July 4th and 5th, at a meeting of the Directors held on April 8th.

This Show and Sale will be divided into two classes. One for Boys and Girls under 20 years of age calls for Red Label Beef weighing from 700 to 900 lbs. and for seniors 900 lbs. to 1100 lbs. These classes require to be finished for export.

Judging will take place on the first day of the fair and sale will be held on the second day. Suitable prizes are being arranged for. Entries will be received by the Secretary up to June 1st.

A committee consisting of S. J. Henderson, Chairman, J. M. Douglas, Joseph Roper, Jack MacKenzie and John Laing were appointed to make arrangements for this sale and D. F. Chisholm will act as Secretary. There are now on feed in the Lacombe District over 1200 head of Red Label Beef, more than twice the number fed here last year and it is expected that this number will be double again next year.

It is felt that the holding of this show and sale is the beginning of a yearly event which will ultimately be the medium through which all the Red Label Stock fed and raised in Lacombe District will be marketed.

Lincoln News

Mr. Pete Huseby has been confined to his bed, for some days. We hope to see him up and around again soon.

Henry Kamiah who was operated on a few days ago is up again and will be moving home this week.

A comedy drama coming off in Lincoln Hall on April 21st. A story of a mother's love and sacrifice for her children, all of whom have left home except the youngest, and best loved son John, whose weak character and inability to resist temptation led him to drink, and finally resulted in him facing a prison sentence for murder. The mother is forced, to mortgage the farm to give her Charley a start in the world, and in her old age is faced with poverty, and deserted by her children for whom she has sacrificed everything.

Lowry's marriage venture and Jerry and his big fat pig will keep the audience in gales of laughter. A dance will follow, music by the Meadowlark Orchestra. Admission to play. Adults 35c, Children 10 years and over 20 cents. Dance, Gents 25 cents. Supper free. Ladies please bring cakes.

Fight Will Be Held In Park's New Garage Nanton St.

One Of the Contributory Causes Of the Present Crisis is That People Do Not Love the Land

Few thinkers lay the cause of the present crisis on any one thing; and although there is some disagreement in emphasis, most people include the following as the major reasons of the world's travail: in the realm of politics, the war debts, excessive governmental expenditure, international commercial paralysis due to high tariff barriers; in the realm of economics, over-capitalization, over-concentration of spending power, over-production; and in the realm of sociology, machines, individual extravagance.

There is not now, and perhaps there never will be, complete harmony over the order of importance of these causes. We even wonder how pertinent is their application to this continent. With the exception of the war debts and the tariff situation, the causes of the present "depression" (we use the word guardedly) as listed above are to a large degree localized. That is to say, they originate in North America, and their influence is felt within its confines. This realization is challenging, for it forces a deeper probing of the causes of the existing economic and social turmoil.

Perhaps an astute investigator would not for long miss the profoundly disturbing psychological basis of the present conditions. North Americans are rootless peoples. As a racial group, they are not endeared to the land. It is true that no single industry is as numerically great as that which derives its living from the soil, and that therefore the charge of rootlessness seems to be entirely unwarranted, but the tragic emphasis is that these people do not love the land. Rather, they wrest their bread from it; they take and take and take from the land, and they hate that which they loot.

The broad implication is that this is a continent that has never been loved—perhaps it is too shortly settled—since its soil is not loved. And for this wide reaches a multitude of clucking hens, the Main Streets, with their restless resentful broods. Distorted instincts have made these towns unlovely and unlovable. The roots of most of their people have not penetrated the settled streets; the good earth below; humanity and the soil have not met.

This condition has held for several decades now. Youth, brought up on the farm, yearns for the city, and is swallowed up in its clanking machinery. And so the isolated classes lack continuity. There has been a mere idle rocking of forces in the shift from country to town. And now the continent seems to be paying a twice-extracted retribution for its superficiality.

Man should not merely conquer the land, he should also win it. And that is where North America has so far failed. The looted land, by creating a distorted, resentful, warring psychology in the hearts of its looters, is wreaking a subtle vengeance that may yet be more terrible than anyone can conceive.—Winnipeg Free Press.

An Envious Position

Britain Has Confidence Of People Impervious To Panic

Walter Lippman, writing in New York Herald-Tribune says: "Why is it that Britain is comparatively better placed at the moment than so many other nations? Is it because her fundamental difficulties are smaller? Not at all. The fundamental difficulties of Britain are real ones. But what Britain has had is the confidence of a dispirited people, of a people politically competent at they are impervious to panic. In the past few months the American people have gradually had it brought home to them that the ordinary happy-go-lucky methods of care for himself, each business, each factory, each state, each nation, each privileged group for itself, may be all very well in easy times, but in the midst of a crisis they are as impossible as in time of war."

Keeping the Wolf Away

A modest, but well-known poet found himself sitting next to a famous yet plain-speaking judge at a recent function in London.

In response to a few "feelers" regarding his business, the literary man confessed he had "been known to have a few poems published."

"And can a living be made writing poetry nowadays?" asked the judge. "I at least manage to keep the wolf from the door," was the reply. "Ah, I see! Read your poems to it, I suppose."

Professor Einstein announces that up to now he has been unsuccessful in reconciling the Quantum theory with the Relativity theory. All of us will therefore have to be content with perfectly understanding each theory separately, as we now do.

Certified Seed Potatoes

Official Tags Constitute Guarantee To The Public

Canadian certified seed potatoes are known in many countries of the world, but, nevertheless, many people have a hazy idea of what is implied by the word "Certified." There need be no doubt as to the word's true significance for the Dominion Department of Agriculture has defined certification as a means of recording seed stock that is of good type, from vigorous plants, and, as far as practical, under advanced conditions of farming, relatively free from serious diseases. When potatoes have been inspected in the field and after harvest by an authorized officer of the Dominion Department of Agriculture, and have been found vigorous and to conform to the standards set of freedom from serious diseases and of purity of variety, they may be certified. Official tags are issued for such seed stocks exclusively and these tags constitute the guarantee that Canadian certified seed potatoes are being dealt with.

Lunch Counter On Dinner

Pennsylvania Railroad Has Tray Service Meas On One Run

Dining cars used by the Pennsylvania railroad on its New York-Pennsylvania run are being equipped with counters at one end to give "tray service" meals, costing from 40 to 75 cents, it was announced. The regular service will be given at tables at the other end of the cars, separated from the counters by a screen. One of the cars has been in use for several weeks.

A SMART MODEL WITH CERTAIN VERSATILITY REGARDING MATERIALS

It's unbelievably simple to fashion. The skirt neckline is easy to handle, yet new and attractive in effect. The bodice is cut with raglan shoulders. All you've to do is to join the sleeves to the bodice, following the perforations for same.

The skirt has length-giving panels at the front.

As for materials for this charming model, it only remains for what occasion it is desired.

For street, it is lovely in navy blue silk crepe with white crepe silk scarf collar.

Very effective and cool for spring and later wear is to make it with short sleeves of a crepe silk print with plain taping crepe trim.

It's sporty with short sleeves of grey rabbit's hair woolen with yellow crepe silk scarf collar.

Six Cent Meat Tastes Good When Not Compulsory

Governor and Mrs. Gifford Pinchot gave a dinner the other night, which was attended by forty guests, among these being Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt. The entire expenditure for food was $272, or slightly more than six cents a plate. The dinner was pronounced excellent by all that partook of it.

The purpose of giving the dinner was to determine what manner of food poor people are subsisting on just now, and more particularly those of the poor who are cared for by charity. The natural conclusion was, of course, that the poor are doing very well, indeed.

It may be desirable to point out, however, the vastness of difference which exists between paying no more than a nickel for a meal, because one can afford no more than that, and partaking of such a meal as a sort of sociological adventure. We know well enough that poverty can be nourished on five-cent dinners. What we do not know is why, in a beautiful land, such poverty should be.—Portland Oregonian.

Pioneer Muskrafs

Invasion In England, Of Canadian Muskrafs Is Reported

Empire reciprocity is being observed in new fields for there has been an invasion of a section of Great Britain by muskrafs, presumably Canadian. A colony has established a base of operations in Central England, in Shropshire and adjacent counties, and lone scouts have been captured in various outlying districts. Instant notification of their presence is immediately demanded by the British Minister of Agriculture. As a side issue the fate of the British rat may be sealed, mayhap, as was the case with the red squirrel when the grey Canadian squirrel was introduced into Great Britain. The reds were practically exterminated.

Gift Worth Receiving

Rotarians Of Windsor, England, Remember Club At Windsor, Nova Scotia

Carved from a 14th century oak beam taken from the tower of the castle at Windsor, England, and constructed by the King's wood carver, a caquet richly engraved and bearing the badge of St. George, has been presented to the Rotary Club at Windsor, N.S. It is the gift of the Windsor and Eton Rotarians of Windsor, England. The unique caquet, demonstrating the bonds of Empire friendship and common interest, was made from a beam in the historic chapel of St. George, which building has been undergoing restoration for more than ten years. Books and photographs were enclosed to show the beauty of the chapel.

Japan's Position

Conduct Such That Her Apologists Are Ashamed

Whatever comes now, Japan is in a terrible position. She has been in a bad position since she was defeated in 1905, not was Germany, by the incidents of alliance and the pressure of great powers upon small, but the relentless logic of her own conduct, which has abashed her apologists and united the timid with the reluctant against her. For the first time a great power has been condemned deliberately and after endless patience by an international body reluctant to condemn her but given no alternative.—Baltimore Sun.

The Smallest Dinosaur

Very Much Like Chicken In Size and Structure

In size the largest of the dinosaurs exceeds one hundred feet in length. An actual skeleton of one of these huge reptiles in the United States National Museum in Washington, known as Diplodocus measures over seventy feet in length and stands over twelve feet high at the hips. The smallest dinosaur known is but a little larger than a chicken and is remarkably bird-like in its structure. It walked around entirely upon its hind legs, the body being balanced by a long tail.—Scientific Monthly.

Once Was Enough

The informality of the Prince of Wales was amusingly illustrated at a brilliant function at the Spanish Embassy in honor of Vice-President Julio Roca of Argentina. An attractive Spanish dancer dropped her comb. The Prince picked it up and returned it with a gallant bow. A few minutes later the dancer dropped two combs and a flower near the Prince. The guests roared; but the Prince refused to budge.

Spain Legalizes "Siesta"

"White collar" workers in general in Peru will get a three-hour rest in their eight-hour working day for their "siesta," or mid-day rest period in summer, according to the law recently passed in Lima. The siesta is a long-stalled custom in Peru but had not been legalized before.

British Admiral Dead

Sir Martyn Jerram Led Second Battle Squadron At Jutland

The leader of the second battle squadron at Jutland and one of the most prominent naval figures of the present era is dead in the person of Admiral Sir Martyn Jerram, 74-years old.

His decorations for service and valor were from several countries including one he gained early in his career which he always prized—the Royal Humane Society's medal for life-saving.

Sir Martyn headed the committee investigating the lower-deck grievances at the close of the war and his pay revision suggestions were adopted.

The Banks Of Scotland

No Failures For Fifty-Five Years Constitute Record

A letter in the Detroit News says the word British includes Scotland geographically, but in many functions they are different and independent of each other, such as Scotch law and Scotch banking.

While England boasts some 12 years and Canada about 10 years without a bank failure, it does not seem to be generally known that "the true homeland of real banking," Scotland, has not had a bank failure since the City of Glasgow Bank failed in 1878, 55 years ago.

This should interest the American public who are crying for safer banks to keep their money in.

Salesmen Used Their Wits

During Bank Holiday Shipped Themselves By Bus C.O.D.

Necessity is the mother of invention, and in banking holidays men's minds must work overtime. So, it was revealed when three travelling salesmen, bound for Fayetteville, North Carolina, became stranded in Charlotte, with no funds, and unable to cash cheques. They were at their wits' end. Finally, one went to a bus station and asked if the company carried "C.O.D." packages. The company did. So the three salesmen had themselves shipped "C.O.D." to Fayetteville, where the bill was paid by a hotel.

Automobile Sales

One thousand six hundred and twenty-four new passenger automobiles were sold in Canada in January, 1937, this being almost double the sale for the month of December and about two per cent. over the sale for January, 1932. Retail value of passenger cars sold in January is placed at $1,691,428.

Boxed Apples Popular

Current statistics of imports of apples into the United Kingdom from the United States and Canada show a decrease, compared with the previous season, in the total receipts of barrel-packed apples, but a large increase in receipts of box-packed fruit.

"ROYAL SCOT" READY FOR LONG TRIP

Canada and the United States are going to see the "Royal Scot" this year when the famous train will tour the chief cities of the Dominion and the United States, following the Chicago World's Fair. The train will be complete even to coaches and baggage cars and it will be the first trans-Atlantic visit of a complete British train. Here we see the "Royal Scot" leaving London to be overhauled for the trip.

Planning To Establish A Well-Founded Town Worthy Of Western Canada's Sea Port

Grow Wheat In Africa

France Is Experimenting With Soil In French North African Colonies

Experiments in wheat growing in North Africa, with the aim of producing "hard" wheat and so enable France to cut down her imports from the American continent, will be financed under the 300,000,000 francs credit recently authorized by the Chamber of Deputies to aid agriculture, the United Press learned from a reliable source.

Even when France produces domestically enough wheat for her needs, she requires to import hard wheats from the United States, Canada and the Argentine to mix with the softer French varieties in milling. This was strikingly demonstrated during 1932. Although the native crop totaled 315,000,000 bushels last season—10,000,000 bushels over her needs—the imports of hard wheats attained approximately 50,000,000 bushels.

Agricultural experts have reported favorably on the soil of the French North African colonies as being eminently suitable for experiments in raising better quality cereals. Every year, larger areas are being cultivated in Algeria, Morocco and Tunisia, which shipped during 1932 a record crop of 25,000,000 bushels across the Mediterranean to the metropolis.

Reviving World Trade

Radical Change In Regard To Tariffs Only Possible Way

If there is to be an international economic system at all, and if world trade is to revive, there must be a much freer exchange of goods generally than exists at present. Unless the Economic Conference is able to achieve this, neither the gold standard nor any other international standard, which endeavors to fix the exchange rates between different countries, can be permanently maintained. In other words, before we attempt to co-operate once more in setting up an international monetary system, we must make it a condition not merely that the war debts are reduced to a harmless proportion, but that there is a radical change in the present situation as regards tariffs and trade restrictions.—Sir Walter Layton in London News-Chronicle.

Men Of Faith

Belief In Goodness, Righteousness and Faith

There are a host of faiths, and by faith I do not mean belief in dogmas, but belief in goodness, belief in justice, belief in righteousness, and above all, belief in truth. Men of faith consider conscience of more importance than knowledge, or rather as first condition. They are not contented with looking for what may be useful or pleasant to themselves; they look by quite other methods for what is honorable, for what is good, for what is just. They believe that if they can find out that, then, at all hazards, and in spite of all present consequences to themselves, that is to be preferred. If individually and to themselves no visible good ever came from it, in this world or in any other, still they would say, "Let us do that and nothing else!"—J. A. Froude.

Use Canadian Wheat

Heavy Shipments Have Been Going Forward To West In Kingdom

Canada continues to find a large market for wheat in the United Kingdom, according to the monthly review of the wheat situation by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. During the seven months from August to February, the United Kingdom imported 112,000,000 bushels of wheat. In this amount Canada supplied about 16,000,000 bushels or 14 per cent.

These figures indicate that during the present crop year British mills have been using an exceptionally high percentage of Canadian wheat.

Minister Endorses Puzzles

The jigaw puzzle is a blessing, believes Rev. A. Lloyd Smith, D.D., of Dominion-Douglas United Church, Montreal, because it is helping to keep families together following a time when the home was merely an empty building beside the garage. It is also another factor in promoting the simpler life, the minister told the American Women's Club here.

Should Be Fully Rip

Bananas, just like any fruit, if eaten raw should be fully ripe. All suggestion of green at the tips should have disappeared and the skin be a deep yellow slightly speckled with brown. In this condition the flavor is delicately mellow and the fruit easily digestible. For cooking purposes, the slightly green fruit may be used with safety.

A new type of safety glass that eliminates eye strain has been developed for motor vehicles. Reflections from sun, snow and bright surfaced highways are filtered out by the new glass.

There will be no "bubble" boom for the Port of Churchill; nothing that will glut temporarily with optimistic opportunities only to crack from the lack of constructive settlement.

Prepared to throw open the townsite to public occupation this spring, Manitoba Government officials, administrators of the infant port, just entering its second actual year, are planning to prevent any undesired rush to Churchill. They want to establish a well-founded town worthy of Western Canada's outlet to the sea.

Meanwhile, directors of the town and port are optimistic. People in many parts of the world are interested in the future of the rugged little settlement across the river from the scattered pile of rock that once was historic Churchill. Hundreds of replies have been received to circulars sent out by the Department announcing when the townsite would be open for settlement.

Numerous applications for permission to establish various business enterprises have been received by R. W. Gyles, director of lands, who has charge of development work. Many have requested further information regarding business and shipping possibilities before deciding to make application.

If all applications were granted by the Department and construction were to begin at the spring opening, summer would find a remarkable sight at the rock-bound mouth of Churchill River.

There would be a business district capable of catering to the citizenry of a small city. In applications submitted permission is sought to build 22 hotels, 23 cafes, 55 stores, 24 warehouses, 30 offices, 30 public buildings (churches, Government offices, banks and theatres) and 20 shops (laundry, barber, printing, etc.); also 176 general enquiries regarding possibilities of residential development.

Some applications, Mr. Gyles said, came from England, many from the United States.

If the port proves its worth, in the opinion of the director, there will be no difficulty in leasing space in the town, which has been surveyed and divided into districts to provide for ultimate population of from 5,000 to 6,000 persons. Present development, however, provides for population of only from 600 to 1,000.

This population would be great enough, Mr. Gyles believes, to fit their plans for "slow and steady" development. It is going to be a "long, slow" task, he concedes, but he is confident of its future. People and firms who come to the port or establish business agencies are aware of the length of time it will require to give the new site a fair test.

The Government wants the town development founded on a basis as sturdy as the rocky townsite itself. Though restrictions on passenger and freight traffic has been lifted, officials will still watch closely the increasing population. No "overnight" businesses are wanted, and directors have notified all interested parties that leases on all properties here will be for 50 years, with possible revision in rental every five years.

The picturesque site, dominated by the towering white grain elevator, mainstay of the port, is divided into well planned avenues and squares. There are 21 streets, each named after some historical character such as Hudson, Selkirk, Raddison, Grosvenor, La Verandrye and Franklin, with from 20 to 50 lots on each. Rental of the lots will range from $25 to $100 annually.

Already there exists a possibility of sufficient industries to build up the town population. Warehouses, shipping branches and even an oil refinery are under consideration. If these are wanted, and directors have notified all interested parties that leases on all properties here will be for 50 years, with possible revision in rental every five years.

With opening of navigation in Hudson's Bay the port will burst into activity. The big elevator is jammed to capacity with 2,500,000 bushels of Western Canadian wheat, which inspectors have just reported in excellent condition. The far northern winter, they said, had no ill effect on the grain, stored there last fall before winter called a temporary halt to transportation over the Hudson's Bay Railway.

Movement of grain should start again immediately the elevator is cleared and officials expect this summer will find a shipping flotilla regularly carrying grain from Churchill to United Kingdom and other European countries. And in the interim a campaign is being waged among Western Canadian concerns in support of the movement to make importations through Churchill as vessels will not be obliged to travel to the northern port in ballast.

Cattle Breeders Optimistic

The thirty-third annual show and sale of bulls, arranged and held under the auspices of the Alberta Cattle Breeders Association, at Calgary, has proved to be a definite success. Animals of unusually high standard were on exhibition and on being offered for sale brought good prices. This is a satisfactory condition. It indicates a revived confidence in the cattle industry, a confidence which did not exist until the Dominion government announced that the pound would be stabilized at $4.60 for purposes of cattle and meat exports. It is anticipated by cattlemen that both export and domestic trade and prices will be stimulated by the pound stabilization and they can see where profit can be made. Therefore they are preparing to develop their industry on broad lines.

Alberta has long been famous for the fine quality of its cattle, which have won premier honors at the biggest shows in Canada and at the International show at Chicago. This province can produce the type which the British market wants and also the type which the United States market will absorb when it is opened again, which seems to be probable in the not distant future.

And while livestock is being considered, it might be noted that the price of eggs has jumped $2.25 since March 1, with prospects of further increases.

With the cattle, horses and hog industries picking up, there is the assurance that Alberta has acquired new three sources of revenue for farm and ranch which have not been on impressive proportions for several years.

TOM MIX
Thursday, Friday and Saturday
"The Rider of Death Valley"

"The Rider of Death Valley" was filmed in the famous desert which is the lowest spot in the United States and the hottest. Thousands and thousands of movie picture fans are delighted at the return of Tom Mix to the screen. They are delighted to find that in talking pictures he is even a greater star than he was three years ago when he was the reigning western star of all time. His second picture, "The Rider of Death Valley," is to play here this week end. It is a typical Tom Mix hard-riding, hard fighting picture, with beautiful Lois Wilson, ornery Fred Kohler and silky-villain Forrest Stanley in featured roles. It also introduces little Edith Fellows, the charming scholar at Universal's "little red schoolhouse," in a delightful role.
